CITY WILL LOSE ART
SCHOOL IF NOT SUPPORTED

Classes Soon to Close for Summer Vacation—Greater Patronage Needed.

Unless greater patronage is bestowed upon the enterprise, it is stated on good authority that Chattanooga will lose the school of fine and applied art, which is a branch of the New York school under direction of Frank Alvah Parsons.

The school, standing as it does for a practical and commercial application of real art principles, has exemplified its usefulness in many lines, as well as in the development of discriminating artistic taste in its pupils. Miss Margaret Emery, head of the department of costume design, having filled her six months' engagement, has returned to New York.

Miss Harriet Palmer, general supervisor, will close the school for the summer vacation in about three weeks. Excellent work has been done by the pupils, especially in poster design, showing much originality and talent for drawing, as well as good color sense.

It is hoped that a greater number of pupils and patrons will rally to the enterprise before the school is permitted to close its doors permanently. The school is one of the best equipped of its kind in any section of the country, admirably located with the University of Chattanooga and among its pupils some of the most talented in the city. Numerical strength in membership has been its only lack.

WAR TRIMMING
OF BLACK SATIN

(By Betty Brown.)

Gorgeous and expensive trimmings are noticeably deleted from the latest fashion plates. As a substitute, the designers have hit upon black satin. The news is welcome to several million women, for black satin is one of the most becoming of all as well as one of the most economical of garbishes for frocks of every kind. In this illustration from Fashion Art Magazine only the collar and the vest binding are done in black satin, but this wee bit of the stuff gives a very plain costume a touch of high style.

forms the background. The treatment is decorative, and the drawing exceptionally good. An especially striking feature of the mural is its soft tones and harmonious blending. The figures, though drawn in a difficult position, express a certain youth and vitality in repose. It is a copy of a famous oil and the spirit of the creator has undoubtedly been brought and transferred to the duplicate. Of the other canvases there are several sketches from Walden's ridge, very nicely grouped. Among them are a vista of hill country through pine trees, one or two studies of fruit trees in bloom, a rustic bungalow and a sketch of the falls. Occupying the foreground is a colored still-life of damson plums, well-drawn and very good in point of both composition and treatment. The exhibit is of unusual merit, and especially the tapestry proves Mrs. Bright to be an artist of promise.

NURSES GRADUATE FROM ERLANGER;
SOME WILL GO TO FRANCE AT ONCE

Pretty Commencement at Masonic Temple—Dr. Fancher Makes Address to Class—Miss Whitney's Successor Not Named.

Mayor Jesse M. Littleton, in presenting the diplomas to the graduating class of the Baroness Erlanger hospital Monday night at the Masonic Temple, emphasized, "Erlanger is doing great work, and if any one wants to get into trouble in Chattanooga, just oppose an appropriation to Erlanger."

The diplomas, he said, were testimonials of honor and esteem, as well as certificates of efficiency, and he presented them with the good will and affection not only of the city and county, but with that of the entire community.

The address to the graduating class was made by Dr. H. L. Fancher, who declared it was the best on record and heartily commended the course of instruction they had received under the direction of Miss Winifred Whitney.

The fact that Miss Whitney had resigned her position with the Baroness Erlanger hospital was very much deplored. She leaves today to take a month's rest at home with her mother in Philadelphia, after which she will go to Knoxville to accept the place of superintendent of the Riverside hospital, a private institution.

The class numbered seven, and were: Miss Josephine Annette Hickey, of Asheville, Ga.; Miss Jimmie O. Knight, Wartrace, Tenn.; Miss Dora from Washington and other places in the east, and others from the far west, and an elegant chest of silver from as near home as Cincinnati.

As Miss Josephine Colyan, the young bride was known throughout the state and was universally beloved in her own home town.

TO RELIEVE CATARRHAL
DEAFNESS AND HEAD
NOISES

If you have Catarrhal Deafness or head noises go to your druggist and get 1 ounce of Parmit (double strength), and add to it 4 pint of hot water and a little ground sugar. Take 1 tablespoonful three or four times a day.

This will often bring quick relief from the distressing head noises, ringing ears and the mucus stop down.

It is easy to prepare, costs little and is pleasant to take. Any one who has Catarrhal Deafness or head noises should give this prescription a trial.—(Adv.)

THE GODMOTHERS

(By Mary Elizabeth Swaney.)

Are you a Godmother? If so, you are glad to tell everybody else of the place that this comparatively new organization has attained since its appearance among the many worthy phases of war activities. If you are not, you will be glad to hear what the Godmothers are really doing.

Yes, the whole work is really carried on by girls themselves. It is now an independent organization, being no longer under the supervision of the Nashville chapter, which still continues as an auxiliary of the Red Cross. With the same goal, however, as the Red Cross—to bring comfort to our soldiers, but without the red tape of the Red Cross—stands out the Godmothers.

The chapter was granted late in the fall, after a very efficient and enthusiastic chairman investigated the prospects of getting the girls interested. The idea of a girls' organization to help win the war was soon favorably looked upon by about fifteen or twenty who decided that it would be worth while to take up the work.

Miss Margaret Ochs, as chairman, supported by the first members, saw from the beginning the possibilities of the work.

Today, during the increased interest, the membership is approximately 150. Attractive permanent headquarters have been secured, hundreds of soldiers have been placed in depots for indisposed or fatigued troops who are passing through the city en route, hundreds of dollars' worth of liberty bonds and the stamps have been sold by the Godmothers. Thursday has been set aside as their special day at the hospital, and plans are now under way for placing a bed in France.

All this and more has been accomplished by the Godmothers. If you are a Godmother, you should be proud of the place you have won, and if you are not a Godmother, you should drop in to the headquarters, any time between 11 and 5 o'clock to get an idea of the dependence that other organizations place on them. When you hear the numerous requests for the Godmothers to support such and such an undertaking. These requests are usually granted, and maybe here is a secret of their success—willing to help.

Chattanooga is proud of them.

be present promptly at the opening of the meeting. The occasion will mark the last meeting of the year.

Mrs. Dean is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Moore of Chattanooga. The bride is a native of Chattanooga. She is now a clerk at station "C" postoffice.

Mr. Dean is connected with the A. G. S. railroad.

EVEN BLUE MONDAY
DIDN'T INTERFERE

Dr. Wakefield Draws Vivid Picture of Man Who Live for Self Alone.

A large crowd greeted Dr. Wakefield Monday night at the Northside Presbyterian church as he began the second week of the revival now going on at that place.

Although "blue Monday" the people came in large crowds and were deeply impressed by the services.

Taking for his text Luke xii:18, Dr. Wakefield read the story of the rich man who was rebuked by the Lord because he was merely laying up treasures in this life—not heeding for a moment the life to come, living for time instead of eternity.

Picturing the scene as he viewed it, the evangelist graphically held before the heart's vision the folly of serving only self and not living for God and humanity.

"All men who leave God out of their lives are fools," said the speaker. "I cannot call them fools because they seek riches, because they believe in all manner of pleasure, because I am mere man; but God calls them fools. They are fools in His eyes and it behooves us all to first get right with God and then see how pride, selfishness and all manner of worldly things will disappear."

The evangelist said this man was a fool because he tried to satisfy himself with worldly things. He gave several striking pictures in prose of persons who lived entirely for self and the world until the moment arrived when death was lurking near, and then they cried out in their deepest grief, saying it was too late.

"Do not criticize wealth," said Dr. Wakefield. "Wealth is all right, it's a fine thing, but what proportion of our wealth do we give to God? Show me a man that is getting $5 a week and tell me how much he is giving to God and His work, and I can tell you how near he is to God."

At the conclusion of the sermon amidst impressive silence and weeping, about forty or fifty went forward pledging themselves to do more efficient and better work for the Master.

Before the sermon Dr. Wakefield sang his usual solo, which is a feature of each service.

The choir and orchestra are rendering splendid music, and the meeting already shows signs of becoming the greatest success in a religious direction ever known to the north side.

It is said that Putnam county will fully subscribe its allotment and the probability is that its quota will be oversubscribed.

PUT OLD ENEMY

Tells how to lift off that touchy corn without hurting one particle

Hospital records show that every time you cut a corn you invite lockjaw or blood poisoning, which is needless, says a Cincinnati authority, who tells you that a quarter ounce of a drug called freezone can be obtained at little cost from the drug store but is sufficient to rid one's feet of every hard or soft corn, callus, or corn. You simply apply a few drops of this freezone on a tender, aching corn and the soreness is instantly relieved. Shortly the entire corn can be lifted out, root and all, without pain. This drug is sticky but dries at once and is claimed to just shrivel up any corn without inflaming or even irritating the surrounding tissue or skin. If your wife wears high heels she will be glad to know of this.—(Adv.)
